LIBRARY JOURNAL NAMES BEST MUSIC OF 2010

New York, New York, January 21, 2011--Library Journal recently announced its list of the Best Music of 2010. The selections were chosen by Matthew Moyer, who writes LJ's Music for the Masses column, is Reference Librarian, Popular Media Department, Jacksonville Public Library, FL. In an article in LJ's newsletter BookSmack!, Moyer commented on his choices, "Below are six releases I feel have the greatest historical and current significance."

"Some of these albums you may have already listened to, others you will hopefully listen to soon—regardless, all go straight to my turntable or CD player when I want to hear adventurous music from the past year (all are also available digitally)," he said.

Moyer's complete article including a review of each album is available in the January 6, 2011, issue of Library Journal's newsletter BookSmack! at <http://bit.ly/dVyJyO>.
